COMMENCEMENT DAY-THE GRADUATES, THEIR

SPEECHES AND DIPLOMAS. The great day at Madison, commencement day o the Drew Theological Seminary, is over and the innitution has by its diplomas and degrees formally iven commission to thirty-three graduates to go th and teach all nations under the standards of the Methodist Episcopal Church. This number is four me than last year, but with that exception is greater and any former year since the seminary was estabished in 1868. The exercises included prayers, songs, ine addresses by the graduates on different subjects, religious and otherwise, and instly the conferring of

The day was very fine, and the little Methodist id, was packed to overflowing with visitors and friends of the graduates. The large majority were ladies, many of whom came from the country towns sear the scuinary to hear the commencement exer-

The exercises began with an instrumental duet by Jackson, played by Misses Emma V. and Blanche E. Fennyson. Rev. Dr. Olin, of the Wyoming Con-ference, made the invocation to the Lord. An anthem was then sung by four members of the graduating class.

Of the twenty-eight addresses on the programmo President Hurst annouaced that only nine would be delivered. The first of these was by Mr. A. R. Cronce, who chose "Music" for his theme. He thought that o was sufficient to melt the stoniest hearts, and ouded in darkness, who, by hearing a devotional aweetest music of all was the soul's wolcome to heaven.

Mr. J. N. Denison delivered an able address on "Our Field." This field, in which the graduates were about to enter, included the whole world and all its diverse populations—the United States, with different interests in different sections; England bravely battling against ritualism; Spain, Portugal and Italy bound hand and foot by the Papul nower; Africa in almost total darkness, and Asia covered by Mohammedanism, Buddhism and Contucianism. He prophessed bright and glorious results from the work.

Wimmerstedt's song, "A Name in the Saud," was next excellently rendered by Mr. J. O. Wilson.

"Wino is Nekerd?"

Stephen Goldsmith, of Hilmois, was the next announcement. That gentleman spoke at longtum a newer to the opening question of his address. The need of the times was a man in whose bosom pulsates the element of genuire manhood—the man of principle, courage and culture. Should principle reign, the cry of "hard times," he thought, would soon be over.

Mr. J. B. Graham, of Pennsylvanis, spoke on "Man-

Mr. J. B. Graham, of Ponnsylvanis, spoke on "Man-ner Peer to Matter." The former, he thought, was in manyling truth quite equal to the latter, as a troth might be told in such a manner as to produce no im-

OTHER EXERCISES.

The anthem, "Protect Us Through the Coming Night," was next sung by six members of the class, Mr. Alfred Smith, of Delaware, spoke on "The Hidden Lite," or inner life of overy man, which differs in every individual, the quarry from which character is hewn. Mr. W. M. Spour, of New York, recited an original poem on "The Triumph of Light," Balfe's quet, "Excelsior," was then sang by Messrs. A. R. Cronce and J. O. Wilson. Mr. H. E. Warner delivered an address on "The Panacea for Sceptica." His idea was that truth comes from heart to heart and life to life rather than by the syllogistic method, so that the cure for scepticism would be to follow up the track of human tradition and teaching to their divine source rather than to deduce it by dreary syllogisms.

Mr. J. H. Wiley spoke on "The Humanists" and the entering wedge of research which they inserted in European thought. The battle which they commenced, however, the speaker thought was not yet ended.

Mr. A. R. Cronce next sang the solo, "The Mes-ended.

Mr. A. R. Cronce next sang the solo, "The Message," by Blumenthal.

"Thought the Basis of Character" was the subject of Mr. J. O. Wilson's address.

A class song, written by Mr. John N. Denison and sung by the graduates, followed the conferring of diplomas and degrees and the exercises concluded with benediction by Dr. McCauley, of Dickerson College.

Before the degrees were conferred Dr. Hurst, president of the seminary, made a few remarks to the assembled visitors. He said that out of the thirty-three graduates filteen had been doing pastoral work besides their seminary studies. They had been doing the work of two men each, Many of them were absent at their fields of lacor. In behalf of these carnest young men Dr. Hurst bogged all present to pray to God to show them a way of helping in the institution. Ministers were especially invited to saist in the work.

Dr. Hurst then called the names of the graduates, and all who were present ranged themselves in line before the platform. He then addressed to them, and all who were present ranged themselves in line before the platform. He then addressed to them selve work of encouragement and address God had passed by their relations, he said, to shoose them out for a higher calling. It was sometimes said to young ministers that they must not preach their doubt. That was true, it was time right kind of advice, but they should not make the mistake of ignoring the existence of doubt. They would have to mix with men of the world and meet must not preach their doubts. That was true, it was the right kind of advice, but they should not make the missiske of ignoring the existence of doubt. They would have to mix with men of the world and meet all shades of doubt and scepticism, which would have to be grappied with. Their sermons should be filled with the spirit of God. They should not be discouraged by thinking there were so many others higher than they were, but should remember that these great men were once the same as they. Where these glants had led the graduates might follow. Great crimes were not the only thing to make ministers fair blunders might sise cause their failure. They should try to be as complete as they could, and if there were any little weaknesses, any small fisuares, more tarrying with God and more treat in Him would were any little weaknesses, any small issures, more tarrying with God and more trust in Him would fill them up. The speaker charged the graduates to remember the seminary. On the part of the faculty he thanked them for their diligence and attention, and for himself he feit deeply grieved at parting. In onclusion Be asked their prayers for the faculty and the success of the institution.

The diplomas were then handed to each of the graduates. The degree of B. D. (Bachelor of Divinity) was conferred on all who had received coilege degrees, on certain others departing on distant missions, and on one in regular course, ne having received the diploma of the seminary four years ago. All the others received the diploma. The following are the names:—

William Cumback, of Indiana, were received by the Conference at ten o'clock. Bishop Paine presiding. They were introduced to the President by Governor Colquitt. Bishop Paine then introduced them to the other bishops and to the Conference. Dr. Foss deityered an eloquent address, in which he expressed the kind and fraternal focings of the Methodiat Church to the Methodiat Episcopal Church South. He was followed by Mr. Cumback in an address on the same line, full of sympathy, and estressly hopeful of a final and complete union of these two great branches of Methodism. Both speeches were frequently applauded.

CORDIAL GREETINGS FROM SOUTHERN RETHRES.

The venerable Dr. Lovick Pierce responded in a few words, which were heard with profound interest. He is now unjety-lour years old and an active member of the Conference. Bishop Palne also spoke in reply in terms of warm welcome and sympathy. The speeches created a protound impression. The Conference and delegates are in perfect harmony.

REFORMED PRESBYTERIANS.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE GENERAL SYNOD OF NORTH AMERICA-BUSINESS TRANSACTID. The regular annual meeting of the General Synod o met yesterday morning in the West Twelfth Street Presbyterian Church. The Rev. S. M. Ramsay was made temporary chairman and opened the season with prayer; after which the misutes of last meeting were approved and the credent:als of delegates sub mitted through the clerk, the Rev. David Steele oredited delegates were present.

A difficulty presented itself in the case of the Re-J. F. Morton, of Cedaraville, Obio, who appeared as a delegate of the Presbytery of that State, but as the body he represented had been dissolved because of a want of the prescribed number of ministers to compose it, he could not present any certificate. It was understood to be agreed that in consequence of the non-organization of the Ohio Presbytery the delegate from it could not vote as a regular representative in

The election of a moderator for the ensuing year resulted in the unanimous choice of the Rev. A. G. Wylie, of Philadelphia; the Rev. David Steele being Sistant clerk.

The Rev. William Wylle introduced a motion in which he asked that the Rev. Messes. Kidd and Hen sistant clork.

The Rev. William Wylie introduced a motion in which he asked that the Rev. Messrs. Kidd and Henshaw, of the United Presbyterian Church, who were present, should be invited to seats as consulting members.

The Rev. Messrs. Thomson and Smiley opposed this resolution, giving as their reason that such a course would be contrary to Presbyterian ordinances, seeing that the gentlemen named were not of their body.

Mr. Wylie successfully pressed his resolution, stating in support of it that as they were regularly ordained ministers he did not care whether they were of their body or not.

The Rev. David Steele, who had been appointed last year to attend the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of North America at Chicago, submitted a letter, which, under state of May 21, 1817, he had addressed to the body to which he was accredited. This communication contained the phrase.—"We can correspond and cultivate Christian and ministerial fellowship." Were strongly objected to, as the Assembly that met in Chicago is not its a state of aprilual intercommunion with the Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church, One of the resperted gentlemén subsequently expinined to the reporter that the Presbyterian Church, on the recognize the government of this country, nor are its members allowed to vote or hold office, because of the strict rule which builds their alligiance to the Church of Scotland. The Reformed Presbyterian Church, on the contrary, recognizes the rovernment of this Republic and allows its members to vote and hold office, Alera is long discussion in the formous, which was renewed in the afternoon session, the report of Rev. Mr. Steele was received, and the words "ministerial fellowship" rejected, and the words "ministerial fellowship" rejected, and the words "ministerial fellowship" rejected, and the words "ministerial fellowship" rejected. the divine blessing upon the Assembly. A Scripture lesson was then read by Rev. L. D. Bevan, of New York, formerly of London, from the second chapter of St. Paul's Epistle to the Ephesians. Rev. Dr. E. F. Hatfield, of New York, announced that the stated clerk had a communication from the retiring Moderator, Rev. James Ellis, of Oakland, Cal. The lester was reed, and stated that his health and his family affairs prevented his being present to conduct the duties imposed upon him in opening the assembly. In the sheence of Rev. Dr. Ellis, the Rev. Dr. E. D. Morris, of Cincinfait, delivered the opening aermon, taking for his subject, "Our Church; Her Equipment, Her Mission and Her Responsibility."

MEETING OF THE SOUTHERN BODY.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., May 16, 1878. The General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of the United States (South) convened here at eleven o'clock this morning. After the opening sermon be o'clock this morning. After the opening sermon by Rev. C. A. Stillman, D. D., the retiring Moderator, the Assembly was constituted by prayer. Rev. Thomas E. Peck, D. D., of the Roanoke (Va.) Presbytery, was elected Moderator, and Rev. Joseph Martin, of the Atlanta (Ga.) Presbytery, temporary clerk. Over one hundred and thirty delegates are present, making probably the largest assembly of this body ever convened.

ST. ANN'S FREE CHURCH.

A fair is now being held in the Sunday school room of St. Aun's Free Church, Eighteenth street, near Pifin avenue, and will continue during the week from one to ten P.M., in aid of charitable work in connection with the church.

HOWARD MISSION ANNIVERSARY.

The seventeenth annual auntyersary of the Howard Mission and Home for Little Wanderers took place jest evening at the Academy of Music, and was attended by a large audience. On the stage were rows upon rows of children dressed to white with cherry colored sashes. These were in theb okground, while in colored sashes. These were in the b-ekground, while in iront were the trustees and some elergymen, iriends of the mission, and immediately in froat of these again, but near the footlights, were children of more tender years seated on minature chairs. The exercises commenced with prayer and then Rev. Frederick Courtney, of St. Thomas' Churer, was introduced by the President, Mr. A. S. Hatch. The reverend gentleman commenced by giving the highest praise to the work of the mission in the past and called upon his nearest to aid in continuing it in the future. All large cities, he said, had what might be called "guilt gardens," where vice and crime were nutrured from the carliest germs and until they budded forth in full fruntion of their coormity. It was to save the young waits of a great city from such gardens that institutions like the Howard Mission were established. How many young rouls had been saved and how many young made glad already by the efforts of those who had this undertaking in charge. Ile hoped that many thousand more would be added to the already large number, with the aid and help of the charitable people of New York.

After Rev. Mr. Courtney's address there were a number of glees and choruses by the elder children, and disloques by the younger ones. Mr. A. S. Hatch explained the work and character of the institution, and not sectarian, but seeking to do all the good it could for all the rouls and bodies it could reach. The announcement was then made that a collection would be isken up, and a large corps of gentlemen collectors were immediately seen making their way with backets through every part of the large building.

During this part of the proceeding there were more songs and choruses, which were followed by addresses from the Freakurer, H. E. Tompkins; Rev. Dr. Murphy, and B. W. Tompkins, of Norwich, Coun. front were the trustees and some clergymen, friends of
